Introduction

I believe that my work experience being client-focused and people-oriented, combined with my education, computer literacy, and understanding of the business environment, as well as my characteristics of being driven, goal-oriented, adaptable, detail-oriented, and having excellent communication skills with a strong customer focus, makes me someone who not only does what's required in the job description but goes above and beyond.

I am also a person that works well in a team environment and enjoys working together for a common goal.
